

PREDICT INCREASE OF NAVY

Senators Claim U. S. Has Gone Wild in Matter of Armament

WILL BANKRUPT NATION

Senator Clay Asserts Appropriation for Navy Averages $2 Per Head and is Increasing.

Washington, May 21.—That as a nation the United States has gone wild in the matter of armament and especially in the construction of battleships, was asserted by Senators Hale, Clay and Gallinger in the senate yesterday afternoon. These statements were made in connection with the consideration of the naval appropriations bill, which occupied the attention of the senate during the day.

The bill carries $13,000,000, and Senator Hale predicted that within five years the annual naval appropriation would not be less than $175,000,000. Consideration of the bill was not concluded.

In the course of the same discussion, the opinion was expressed freely that the promised reduction of expenditures would not take place during the present session of congress, and Senators Hale and Gallinger, both members of the committee on appropriations, united in the statement that for the next fiscal year the expenditures would exceed the revenues. Another feature of the debate was the citation of ex-President Roosevelt as an advocate of reduced armament. It was all brought about by the amendment introduced by Senator Burton providing for one battleship of dreadnaught type instead of the two authorized by the bill as passed by the house. The amendment offered a basis for speeches by Senators Clay, Hale, Gallinger, Burton, Newlands and others.

Mr. Clay was the first to assert that the country had gone wild in the matter of armament.

"We have lost our heads," he said, "and if we do not stop we will bankrupt the nation."

Assuming that the appropriation for the navy proposed for the present year averages $2 per head for each man, woman and child in the country, he said:

"In the past 12 years congress has passed laws authorizing 29 new battleships. We are now expending almost $10,000,000 a year against $25,000,000 12 years ago. Apparently we haven't the courage to stop. We have gone wild—absolutely wild. In this day of high Christian civilization the nations are exhausting their military expenditures the resources that ought to go to feeding the hungry. We ought to stop and think."

By quoting Senator Hale as authority for the statement that each of the proposed battleships would cost not less than $10,000,000, Mr. Clay aroused general interest. Mr. Gallinger expressed doubt and introduced figures to show that the cost would not exceed $10,000,000.

Mr. Hale not only sustained Mr. Clay, but added to his figures. He said that the vessels are being completely armored and equipped, and that the total cost of putting one of these vessels in the water probably would be nearer $15,000,000 than $10,000,000. Proceeding, he declared that the fallibility of the naval board was such that there could be no guarantee for the future.

"That board never has been able to make a recommendation of any type in these ships that has been good for ten years," he said.

After estimating that there would be a deficit at the end of the year, Mr. Hale said:

"All this talk of the possession of a surplus revenue places us in a false position. He declared that the United States had caught its infection from England, where the conditions are different."

This had been by way of introduction of Mr. Clay's speech, who, concluding, declared that one of the big battleships would cost as much as the cost of governing the entire state of Georgia for one year.

Mr. Clay then pointed out that there had been a substantial reduction in this year both in the army and navy bills, but he also feared a deficit would be shown at the end of the year. While agreeing that the country had been running wild in the matter of the size of ships, he expressed the opinion that the safe plan was to carry out the present program for shipbuilding. He thought the United States should have an adequate navy.

Both Mr. Hale and Mr. Clay referred to the address made in Christianity by Mr. Roosevelt, in which he

COMET IS TAILLESS AT PRESENT

Scientists Think We Have Passed Through Tail Though Some Express Doubt.

Yerkes Observatory, Williams Bay, Wis., May 21.—Halley's comet was under observation here in the west from 7:40 to 8:35 o'clock last night. Astronomers first observed it through a four-inch telescope at 7:40. At 8:10 o'clock the phenomenon was visible to the naked eye, and remained so until it became lost behind a cloud bank at 8:35. It set at 9 o'clock.

"The comet appeared as of the brightness of a star of the second magnitude," said Professor Edwin Fries. "No tail was observed. The exposures of the spectrum show principally a continuous spectrum, which means it is chiefly due to reflected sunlight. The gaseous constituents were less conspicuous than when the comet was in the morning sky and appeared faint."

"The comet should be visible to the naked eye tonight from 8 till 9 o'clock, in spite of a bright moon. Whether it will appear without the tail remains to be seen."

The scientists say that the earth has either passed through the tail while clouds obscured the sky, or that the tail curved to such an extent as to miss the earth entirely.

The puzzle precipitated by the failure of the comet's tail to follow the head to the west has not been cleared up by any data or observations secured here. Prof. Barnard is of the opinion that nothing definite on this point will be discovered for another day.

Despite an apparent lack of any positive data or direct information bearing upon the action of the comet's tail, the scientists say they will be able to determine that point beyond any doubt within a comparatively short period of time.

ANOTHER FLIGHT ACROSS CHANNEL

London, May 21.—A German airship crossed the English Channel this morning, flying from the coast of France to the coast of England. The airship was seen by several witnesses and was reported to be flying at a high altitude. The flight was very successful and the airship was seen to land safely on the coast of England.

IN THE EAST IN THE MORNING

San Jose, Cal., May 21.—Director W. W. Campbell, of Lick Observatory, said last night:

"The comet is brilliant in the western sky, the head being brighter than a first magnitude star. It was visible shortly after sunset. The tail can be seen as of length of 10 or 15 degrees projected on the moonlight sky."

"Halley's comet was observed at Lick Observatory in the eastern sky. The tail extended from the horizon up to the Milky Way, making its observed length 150 degrees. I was, on my about one-third as intense as yesterday morning's tail, from which it is judged that we have either passed through, or passed by on the south side fully two-thirds of the tail. It is impossible to determine at this time whether we passed through the southern side of the tail during the daylight hours or the early hours of the evening when the sky was bright with moonlight, or whether we missed it altogether."

"Observations obtained on the first few evenings in the western sky may supply the data required for settling the interesting question. It seems probable that we shall have passed through the tail completely by Saturday morning and, therefore, will no longer have an open question. The comet is in the eastern sky, but the tail is in the western sky."

BEAM OF LIGHT, BRANCH OF TAIL

Greenwich, N. Y., May 21.—Dr. W. M. R. Brooks, director of Smith Observatory, observes that the beam of light seen in the eastern sky on Thursday morning was a branch of the tail of Halley's comet, that the beam really passed through the beam of light, and that the beam of light was actually a branch of the tail of the comet.

Dr. Brooks says, "In the past, it has been generally supposed that the beam of light was a branch of the tail of the comet, but now it is clear that it was a branch of the tail of the comet."

FIVE NEW FIGURES IN HEAVENS

Denver, May 21.—Dean H. A. Howe, of the University of Denver, has discovered five new figures in the heavens. The figures are of various sizes and shapes, and are located in the constellation of Orion. The discovery was made by using a special instrument called a "spectrometer."

UP IN BALLOON TO SEE COMET

North Adams, Mass., May 21.—In an endeavor to secure data on Halley's comet, Professor David A. Todd of Amherst and three companions ascended at 6 o'clock in the balloon "Clare" to see the comet. The balloon was in the air for about an hour, and the weather was favorable for the observations.

BALLOON

WHICH LEFT ST. LOUIS LANDED NEAR KENOSHA, WIS., FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Encountered Dead Calm in Michigan And Were Forced to Descend.

Kenosha, Mich., May 21.—After flying north from St. Louis to Kenosha, the balloon "Clare" landed at 4:30 p.m. at Kenosha, Mich. The balloon was in the air for about 24 hours and covered about 450 miles. The flight was made in an attempt to win the Latham Cup for the long distance record.

Captain Howeyell was highly pleased with his trip, notwithstanding his failure to make a record.

"We got along nicely," he said, "enjoying a good trip until we encountered a dead calm over Central Michigan. Whether we went up or down we could find no favorable current and so decided to land. Our trip over Illinois to Kenosha, Wis., was in every way excellent and we made good time."

"We sailed at a high altitude Thursday night, on account of rains below us, and found it exceedingly cold. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning we reached Lake Michigan and started to cross at an altitude of 2000 feet. We saw a tug chasing us out of Kenosha, but it was soon lost to view."

"During the forenoon we went high and you can imagine the force of the heat by a glance at our faces, which you see are blistered. As we approached Grand Haven at noon we were greeted with a long and continuous salute from an excursion boat on the lake. We were five miles north of Grand Haven, passing that city at 1 p.m."

Mr. Honeywells says he sees bright prospects for ballooning this summer, and will be in the game all the time.

His companion, William F. Asman, is qualified for pilot and has one more trip to make. The balloons left St. Louis at 7:43 last night for St. Louis.

J. M. LYNCH

Will Again Head International Typographical Union With John Hayes as Secretary-Treasurer.

Indianapolis, May 21.—The election of President James M. Lynch of the International Typographical Union, together with all other international officers, is practically assured today when more than one-half of the voting members had been tabulated. The returns attest the general satisfaction among locals with the administration of their officers during the past two years. John Hayes, international secretary and treasurer, receiving the returns today predicted the result as follows:

President, James M. Lynch, Indianapolis.

Secretary-treasurer, John Hayes, Indianapolis.

First vice president, George Tracy, San Francisco.

Delegates to the American Federation of Labor, Frank Morrison, Chicago; secretary to the A. F. of L. M. Hayes, Cleveland; Hugh Stevenson, Toronto, Cal.; and P. M. McCullough, Omaha.

Three trustees are to be elected on the board of seven controlling the Union Printer's Home at Colorado Springs. Only one change is likely.

SOME OF ESTRADA'S TROOPS

MARINES ON GUNBOAT PADUCAH

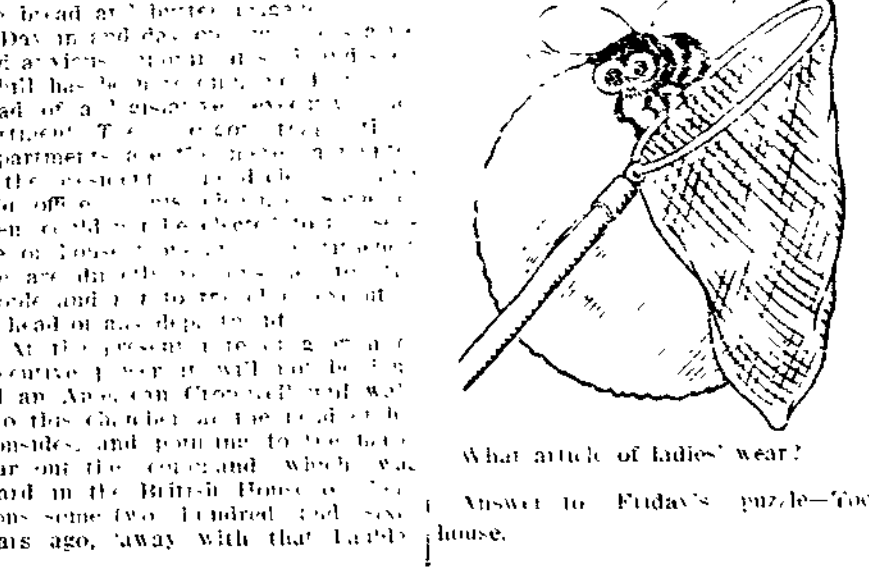

Washington, March 21.—Commander W. W. Glimmer, U. S. N., commanding officer of the gunboat Paducah, now at Bluefields, Nicaragua, has served notice on the two factions that no fighting will be allowed in the city of Bluefields and that only such armed forces, not exceeding 100 men, shall be allowed in Bluefields as are necessary for policing the town until a stable government is established. Commander Glimmer will not allow Senator Arias, the commander of the steamship Venus, to bombard the city, as there is no armed force in Bluefields. Such a bombardment, Commander Glimmer believes, would only result in the unnecessary destruction of the lives and property of American and other foreign non-combatants. Senator Arias served notice on the revolutionary forces that he intended to bombard the town if the insurgents did not surrender. Thomas P. Moffat, American consul at Bluefields, advised the state department that the Venus has been made through the gunboat Paducah and the American consulate. He also reported that Senator Estrada, president of the provisional government, had replied, refusing surrender. The steamship Dictator, of New Orleans, was prevented from entering the port by the Venus, which has established a blockade there.

CHAMP CLARK, DEMOCRATIC FLOOR LEADER, SOUNDS THE KEYNOTE OF FALL CAMPAIGN

Washington, May 21.—A Democratic keynote for this year's campaign was sounded in the house today by Champ Clark of Missouri, leader of the house minority. The proposed appropriation of $250,000 per annum to support a tariff commission, he said, "should be entitled 'A Motion to Postpone the Verdict of the People on the Payne-Adams Tariff' to a later season more convenient for the stand-pat leaders." It is another effort, a desperate effort to fool the voters of the land. The creation of such a commission would be only a starting point for a new legislative branch of the government, the executive branch, a process that has gone on for a quarter of a century.

Clark said that the tariff commission was a device to keep the tariff question out of the campaign. He said that the tariff question was the only issue that the people cared about.

ROOSEVELT LIONIZED BY ROYALTY

Played Important Part in Luncheon Given by King George

A WONDERFUL TRIUMPH

Scored by Ex-president While Hobnobbing With Kings, Princes and Dukes.

From a staff correspondent of the United Press.

London, May 21.—"A wonderful triumph for Roosevelt."

This was the characterization today of the royal luncheon that King George gave at Windsor palace yesterday immediately following the funeral of the late King Edward. Not until today was it learned what an important part Colonel Roosevelt played at this function which was attended by 120 kings, princes, dukes and untitled representatives at the funeral of the late king.

Every one in attendance now admits that Colonel Roosevelt was the dominating figure. These royalties who had not been presented crowded about Roosevelt eager for an introduction. The ex-president was literally besieged by royal questioners to learn his views of European politics, but he was on his guard and countered by an avalanche of questions regarding the burdens and compensations of kingship. For more than an hour this cross-fire of questions continued and finally developed into the distinctive feature of the luncheon. So interested did the notable assembly, the greatest gathering of royalties ever seen at such a function, become in the Colonel, that for a time the note of sorrow over the burial of King Edward was lost sight of. Roosevelt's personality swept everything else aside.

Today Colonel Roosevelt and his family are at "West Park," the country home of Ambassador Reid. They will remain there until Monday when they will return to be the guests for a few days of Colonel Arthur Lee, M. P., who was the British military attaché at Washington during the Spanish-American war and accompanied General Shafter to Cuba.

SEAFER'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

Have you dyspepsia? If you have perhaps you want to get rid of it. You can by taking Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets. We do not print any pictures of before and after taking. You get them by standing before the looking glass. If you don't believe this, try the tablets and you will. We have proved that Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure dyspepsia over and over again. We are ready to demonstrate it in your case, and we will tell you how. Go to the store of Erman and Son and get a package. Take it according to directions. If it cures you, step in and tell the druggist so. If it doesn't step in just the same, and tell him that, and he will hand you right back the ducats you paid him. Do you suppose this offer would be made if we had any doubts about what the tablets will do for you? Do you see any way that you can lose any money out of it? But if you really enjoy dyspepsia, and want to retain it permanently, let Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets alone, for the tablets won't let dyspepsia alone.

off of the coat sleeve into which the little timepiece will fit, but in some cases it is made to wear unattached on the sleeve. Except for the face it would be almost impossible to tell it from the other buttons on the cuff. There used to be a novelty watch that was worn in the button hole of the coat lapel, but this one is used as a regular button and is the greater novelty on that account. Girls who heretofore imagined that all the odd watch and jewelry novelties were designed for their benefit will now have to yield the field to the brothers.

THE EMERSON SHOE

HONEST ALL THROUGH

FOR Spring and Summer the tan Oxford for every day and patent leather for dress, but it must be an Emerson to be correct. Cut on an exclusive pattern, the Emerson Oxford fits closely to the ankle and does not stretch under service and flare at the edges. The nobbiest of styles are combined with a perfect and comfortable fit.

The trademark "Honest all through" stands back of the wearing quality.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE

The Oxygenator was left at my home April 10th 1919, is a most excellent means for curing disease.

On Feb. 1st I had a very severe attack of Sciatic Rheumatism, and three weeks I did not get out of bed. After about a month, we were told I could not sleep, so having no other work I would feel right again. I bought one Oxygenator and used it for five days felt able to go to work, and have been working three weeks and feel much better.

We were told Neuritis about two days ago and was very bad for 24 hours. We did not know the Oxygenator would cure this, but it does. The work has been going on since then without failure. She has been a sufferer with that dreadful disease, Constipation for 12 years, but has used no cathartic since she has been using the Oxygenator.

We think the Oxygenator is a blessing to suffering humanity, and I can highly recommend it to any family.

Yours very truly,

HENRY O. SWERN
